SUMMARY

This report demonstrates coverage trends in seven prominent Pakistani newspapers, revealing various topics at the national and international levels. The indexed data highlights that 30 topics at the national level and 25 topics at the international level were covered in these newspapers during February 2025. However, we applied a minimum occurrence criterion of 15 entries per topic to identify the major focus areas of these newspapers. According to this criterion, there was a strong focus on domestic issues, with 13 national topics dominating compared to four international topics. However, the most frequently covered topic was the United States (82 entries), while the least covered topic meeting the minimum threshold was Health (16 entries). A possible rationale for the extensive coverage of the USA in Pakistani media could be the various initiatives taken by the U.S. President regarding the Russia-Ukraine war (with discussions between the U.S. and Ukrainian presidents making headlines in Pakistani newspapers), the Gaza conflict, and policies on illegal immigration, among other issues. Overall, the comparison between national and global coverage highlights an outward-looking media narrative, as the USA received the highest number of entries in this index.

Indexed Newspaper and Their Number of Entries

The report of seven major Pakistani newspapers in English language provides trends and patterns publishing in these selected newspapers (Data attached as Annexure – I). Table 1 presents data on the number of entries indexed from seven selected Pakistani newspapers. The total number of indexed entries is 779, with varying contributions from each newspaper. The News and Pakistan Observer contributed the highest number of entries, 127 each, ranking first and second, respectively. Business Recorder closely follows with 126 entries, ranking third. Dawn, a widely recognized newspaper, provided 112 entries, placing it fourth. Daily Times and The Express Tribune each contributed 106 entries, ranking fifth and sixth, respectively. The Nation had the lowest number of indexed entries at 75, ranking seventh. The data suggests that the top three newspapers such as The News, Pakistan Observer, and Business Recorder had relatively similar contributions, indicating their extensive coverage of topics relevant to the index. Meanwhile, The Nation had the lowest representation, which may suggest a lesser focus on the subject matter of the index or fewer articles meeting the selection criteria.

The editorial content published in Pakistani newspapers reflects a broad range of national issues. Government-related topics received the highest attention, with 47 entries, indicating a strong focus on governance, policies, and administrative affairs. Economic issues (40 entries) and International Relations (38 entries) were also extensively covered, suggesting their significance in the national discourse. Politics (36 entries) and Education (36 entries) ranked equally, highlighting their importance in public discussions. Additionally, Environmental concerns (33 entries) and Media & Journalism (28 entries) were notable topics, reflecting awareness of climate issues and the role of the press in shaping public opinion. Legal and judicial matters, including Law, Legislature, and Judiciary (26 entries), and advancements in Science & Technology (21 entries) were also well represented. The focus on Business and Foreign Direct Investment (18 entries) suggests interest in economic growth and international investments. Issues concerning Kashmir (16 entries), Social Issues (16 entries), and Health (15 entries) indicate attention to regional conflicts, societal challenges, and public well-being. Topics like Defense (12 entries), Banking & Finance (12 entries), and Women’s Rights (11 entries) show moderate coverage, reflecting national security concerns, financial matters, and gender issues. Surprisingly, Crimes (3 entries), Terrorism & Extremism (3 entries), and Biography & Autobiography (2 entries) received minimal coverage, suggesting a lower editorial priority compared to governance, economy, and politics. Arts (1 entry) was the least covered topic, indicating a limited focus on cultural and artistic developments in national discussions.

Overall, the editorial content prioritizes governance, economy, international relations, and socio-political issues, with less emphasis on cultural, artistic, and criminal aspects

Newspaper Coverage at Global Level

The international-level coverage across the indexed newspapers provides a detailed insight into the global focus and priorities reflected in the media. Overall, there are 25 various topics with 254 total entries have been covered at global level in these seven Pakistani newspapers in English language (Table 3).

Table 3: Newspapers coverage on various topics at global level (total 254 entries)

Total:		254

The international editorial content published in Pakistani newspapers predominantly focuses on the USA, with 82 entries, highlighting its central role in global politics, economics, and international affairs. This suggests that U.S. policies, diplomatic relations, and geopolitical strategies significantly influence editorial priorities. India and China each received 19 entries, indicating substantial interest in their political, economic, and strategic affairs, particularly concerning Pakistan's foreign policy and regional dynamics. World Politics (17 entries) also ranked high, reflecting a general focus on international governance, power struggles, and diplomatic engagements. Key global themes include World Science & Technology (12 entries) and OIC & Islamic World Conflicts (12 entries), showing an interest in technological advancements and issues concerning the Muslim world. World International Relations (10 entries), World Security (10 entries), and World Economy (10 entries) received balanced coverage, indicating the newspapers' attention to international financial stability, trade, and security matters. Topics such as World Conflicts (9 entries), Financial Institutions like IMF & World Bank (9 entries), and Terrorism & Extremism (9 entries) show concerns about global peace, economic policies, and security threats. Environmental protection strategies (7 entries) received moderate coverage, demonstrating an awareness of global sustainability efforts. Issues such as World Nuclear Programs (4 entries), Regional Organizations like the UN & UNESCO (4 entries), and Human Rights (3 entries) were covered, but to a lesser extent, suggesting they are important but not top priorities in editorial discourse. Judicial Systems, World History, and Current Affairs (2 entries each) received minimal attention. The least covered topics include World-Agriculture,

Social Media, Ethnic Groups, and World Sports (1 entry each), indicating that these areas are not a primary editorial focus.

The editorial content emphasizes major global players (USA, India, China), geopolitics, security, economy, and international conflicts, while topics like culture, sports, and social diversity receive limited coverage. This suggests a strong focus on power dynamics, economic policies, and security concerns in international editorial discussions.

Major Publishing Trends in Pakistani Newspapers

The combined trends (with minimum frequency of occurrence = 15) from the indexed topics in Pakistani and international contexts reveal significant patterns of media focus and public discourse, highlighting areas of national and global interest. It highlights a notable disparity in focus, with a strong emphasis on domestic issues compared to global ones.

Table 4: Major publishing trends in Pakistani newspapers (with minimum frequency of 15)

Sr. No.	National	No. of entries	International	No. of entries
1	Government	47	USA	82
2	economy	40	India Politics, Policies, Conflicts, Foreign	19

On the international front, the USA dominated editorial coverage (82 entries), reflecting its significant influence on Pakistan's political and economic affairs. Coverage of India (19 entries) and China (19 entries) highlights regional geopolitical interests, while world politics (17 entries) suggests a broader concern with global governance and diplomatic affairs. The index data shows that the overall focus of editorial content in seven Pakistani newspapers was on governance and political affairs, as both national (government, politics, international relations) and international (USA, India, China, world politics) topics heavily emphasized governance, diplomacy, and global affairs. Similarly, economy and business are crucial in Pakistani media, with economy (40 entries) and FDI (18 entries) on the national side. Additionally, global financial institutions (not included in this table but previously noted at 9 entries) indicate that economic concerns remain a major editorial priority. Education and science are also important areas, as shown by Science & Technology (21 entries) and Education (36 entries), suggesting that newspapers acknowledge the importance of technological and educational advancements. Environmental and social issues are also recognized, with environment (33 entries) and social issues (16 entries) in the national domain, alongside global coverage of environmental concerns. Lastly, Kashmir remains a significant topic with 16 entries, likely due to Kashmir Solidarity Day, which is observed annually on February 5th in Pakistan.

Overall, the editorial landscape in Pakistani newspapers is heavily inclined towards political, economic, and governance-related topics, both nationally and internationally. While social issues, the environment, education, and science are covered, they receive less attention compared to governance and geopolitics. The USA, India, and China remain the top global focal points, while Pakistan’s internal governance, economy, and legal matters dominate national discussions.
